

Educating the whole person

Livingstone College believes that educating the whole person results in better student learning outcomes, which is why it instituted the Center for Holistic Learning. The program takes a holistic approach at educating and preparing the total student – intellectually, morally, physically and spiritually – for the best possible path to a better future. The modules that comprise the Holistic Center include health, wellness and finance; emergency response and first aid; political action and social responsibility; community service; cultural and social awareness; debt management, personal responsibility and philanthropy; individual and organizational leadership; Spanish as a second language; technology and the 21st Century; and faith-based strategies for the enhancement of quality of life.
